

Specialist unit for intercultural competence

The specialist unit for intercultural competence has existed since May 2017. Cristina Visiers Würth is the point of contact for persons, institutions, organisations, government offices and businesses that supervise, support or employ refugees or immigrants in the District of Böblingen. The aim is to strengthen intercultural competencies on a personal and institutional level through training and consultations.