

Volunteer coordination

Another important focus of this department is the coordination of volunteer engagement. District Volunteer Coordinator, Beata Zelezik-Rebmann, is the core organiser for all those who are working to assist refugees in the District. She supports and coordinates the work of the volunteers, mediates between the staff at the Administrative District Office and the volunteer groups, and strengthens networking between the different actors. Her tasks include information transfer, the organisation of further training events for the volunteers, and public relations.
