Entitled persons

Entitled persons include children, adolescents and young adults from families that receive

- unemployment benefit II/social assistance
- social welfare under SGB XII [German Social Code]
- Housing subsidy
- Child benefit or
- benefits under AsylbLG [Asylum Seekers Benefit Act].

The educational and social participation package supports low-income families. For example, children should be given the opportunity to take part in the collective lunch at the school or day care centre, membership in a club or learning support.

Pupils can receive these benefits up to and including the 24 years of age providing they attend a general or vocational training school and are not paid apprentice's pay.

Important notice:

Even if you do not receive any of the aforementioned benefits, you nonetheless have a claim to educational and social participation benefits e.g. if your income is just above the decisive need under SGB II.

In this case, please contact the respective job centre. It will determine, together with you, whether and to what extent you have a claim to the respective benefits.
